Minister's Column

Dear UUCEL Members & Friends,

We're in the middle of our pledge drive as I write this, and still will be as you read this, and what has been occurring to me, and to others in our church leadership, is that our increased need to focus on fundraising has driven the limited energy of our church's volunteers, while other areas, like spiritual growth and social justice, have had less involvement. To that end, we're certainly hoping we can raise more of our money this year in direct pledging and have less need for fundraising. However, we are also starting dialogues with other churches in our area about working together in new ways. First Congregational in Jackson, in particular, has been reaching out to us, and our board has voted to start a committee with them of people interested in building collaboration between our two churches, particularly in religious education, where we have some strengths to lend them, and in social justice, where we have many common goals. Jackie Johnson will be the board liaison to this effort. Another collaboration in the works comes from the Michigan UU Social Justice Network which has been working with Jim and Donna Benedict at St John's UCC Church to create a special Health-care forum in Jackson, probably in May. Since it's a joint UU/UCC effort, they're asking us to come on board as co-sponsors and to help publicize the event. This is something our board may address in April, and something we might ask First Congregational to join us in. If you're interested in being part of either of these efforts, let me know. These dialogues with our local UCC congregations comes at a timely moment. UCC churches share a historical bond with us, as the Unitarians broke off from the Congregationalists (or we might say the two each broke from the other), and our UUA president sat down for a dialogue with the UCC president just this past February. The UU World wrote about this dialogue and our common ground with the UCC saying, "The two associations often overlap in their social justice work, advocating for similar causes, such as marriage equality, and signing on to the same public statements. Last week, for example, both the UUA and the UCC came out in support of the Jan. 20 announcement by the United States Department of Health and Human Services that contraceptive services must be covered by most insurance policies without deductibles or co-pays, and that only purely sectarian organizations should be exempt." Our UUCEL board spent a good deal of time at our last board meeting particularly discussing the sexuality religious

Religious Education Report

Spring brings with it a time of change and renewal. It feels like the "Church Buddies" breakfast and RE Sunday became a turning point within which change is constant, like a turning wheel. My miniature daffodils and forsythia have bloomed, and my other spring flowers are budding, bringing the hope of lovely outdoor times ahead.

We got good feedback from the RE Sunday service. The K-6 class is learning about New Testament stories for the rest of the school year. The youth will be visiting St. Rita's Church on April 1, and debriefing in the weeks after that. Then we'll decide what other churches should be visited.

Spring brought a tornado to Dexter, and I was at my other job within a mile or so of "ground zero" when it struck. We hunkered down in windowless rooms and were lucky to have no damage at The Cedars other than a few wood chips out of place from the heavy rain and hail. United Methodist Retirement Communities (which is separate from the United Methodist Church, by the way, and nondenominational regarding staff and residents) is housing at least seven families who were rendered homeless by tornado damage—most who are families with children in Dexter schools. You can see how my Presbyterian upbringing comes into play for me when I remembered the Bible verse, "When God's children are in need, you be the one to help them out." Of course, I think "God's children" means all children, regardless of creed. I guess it's also like Gandhi's saying, "You must be the change you wish to see in the world." This is the kind of lesson that we can teach our UU children, too—that when there is a need, or a person suffering, we should ask ourselves, "what can I do to help?"

The experience of helping to get procedures in place for housing these families, and helping to get their temporary homes equipped fast with furniture, appliances and household items, has been immensely rewarding as well as emotionally draining; I assume this is especially true for our organization's CEO, who survived Hurricane Katrina in Gulfport, Mississippi but lost his home and his livelihood there in the process. I guess this contributed to my getting emotional while I read Beatrice's Goat, about Heifer International's help for a Ugandan village.

Thank you to those who are helping with nursery/K-6 (combined) coverage for April 1, including Martha Koopman, and to Lynn Hightower and Gordon Bernstein, who are taking the youth to St. Rita's that day.

We are putting together a plan for offering "Peace Camp" in August, and will be recruiting teachers both for that effort, and for Fall. I would appreciate your asking yourself, "what can I do to help?" Thanks as always for your support.

Notes from the Board

It's that time of the year once again—the annual pledge drive is upon us. Those who are willing to be canvassers will attend one of two training sessions and soon will be contacting you to schedule a convenient time to meet with you. Our budget is based on the amount generated by pledges; therefore each and every pledge is important to our being financially sound. In recent years, we have eliminated some of our expenses by dropping various items from the budget, but there are some expenses we cannot. Our utility costs, over which we have little control, must be paid, and these usually increase yearly. This year it has cost us $2.86 per person (based on an average attendance of 45 people) to meet for the hour on Sunday mornings.

We, also, need to pay $79.00 per MEMBER to the UUA and Heartland district. It is the Board's fervent hope that your heartfelt pledge will be generous. The pledge drive is to be completed by April 8th.

If you haven't already scheduled your time for your church directory photograph, please contact Kerry Hart. The sittings will take place in April. There is no charge for the directory photographs, but there will be a cost should you wish to order extra photographs.

The monthly Board meeting will be the second Wednesday in April because of Spring Break being the first week, at which time several of the members, will be out of town. The Board retreat is scheduled for April 14.

Spring is often thought of as a time for awakening and renewal and is welcomed by us all.

Happy Spring!

education curriculum that was co-produced by the UUA and UCC, as well.

It's good to partner with our liberal religious cousins like the UCC and Congregationalist churches, such as Arbor Grove Congregational Church (which has been a leader in coordinating the Jesus Seminar which we will co-sponsor again in the fall). I look forward to these collaborations and more in the future. Let me know how you'd like to be involved!

Peace,

New Church Photo Directory

UUCEL has partnered with Olan Mills to create a new photo directory of our membership. Please sign up to have your photo taken

Friday, April 27 or Saturday, April 28.

Sign-up sheets and a price list are available in the Social Hall. Notice the appointment times are color-coded for different sized groups, so please choose your time accordingly. You may also choose to bring along pets for photos—your photo with your pet is for if you want to purchase photos, and will not be your shot used in the directory. No purchase is necessary, and every family photographed will receive a free photo and a free church directory. You may purchase portrait packages starting at $80, and individual portraits are available for less. Your participation and purchases will help the church pay for directories and brochures. Please see Kerry Hart or Martha Koopman for any questions. Contact Kerry if an important commitment will require that you need a different picture-taking date.

(See Supplement Page for more contact information).

"The Status of Recycling in Jackson"

The Jackson District Library, the Universalist Unitarian Church and the Jackson Sierra Club announce the forum "The Status of Recycling in Jackson" to be presented Thursday, April 19th, 2012, 6:30 pm at the Jackson District Library - Carnegie Branch, 244 W. Michigan Ave. Panelists will discuss a variety of issues affecting local recycling; issues ranging from how to properly prepare materials to the governmental and business structures that are unique to Jackson's solid waste management. Speakers for this program include Steve Noble, president of the board of Recycling Jackson, Jill Butterfield, Green School Facilitator, Travis Fojtasek, community recycling advocate, and Bill Thomas, vice president, Northwest Refuse Inc. The JXN Community Forum series, now in its seventh year, consists of free and open programs to facilitate dialogue about challenging issues of our time.

All Sunday Services Start at 11:00 am ~ Celebrating Over 150 Years of Liberal Religion

April 1 - "Jazz and the Spirituality of Malcolm X or Tricksters and the Origin of April Fool's Day"

- Lay Leader, Jon Hart

Jon will explore the jazz spirituality of Malcolm X or the origins of April Fool's Day or Trickster stories or John Coltrane Buddhist experience pt. 2 or ... you get the idea.

April 8 - "Celebrate Easter"

- Lay Leader, Sharon Pedersen

This service will celebrate Easter with story and ceremony, led by Sharon Pedersen with several youth and adults participating. While focusing on Jesus, the stories are very "accessible" for Christians, agnostics and skeptics alike.

April 15 "To Be Announced"

- Rev. Yvonne Schumacher Strejcek

Rev. Schumacher Strejcek from the Community UUs in Brighton will lead our service this day as the Southeast Michigan UU ministers participate in a round robin pulpit exchange (Rev. Cindy will be heading to Southfield). Rev. Yvonne is a lifelong UU who grew up in suburban Detroit and held many leadership positions before entering the ministry. She came to CUUB in 2010 after serving at Arlington Street Church in Boston.

April 22 - "I Speak for the Trees"

- Rev. Dr. Cynthia L. Landrum

Join us for an Earth Day service featuring the words of Dr. Seuss' "The Lorax" and more!

April 29 - "Auction Sermon"

- Rev. Dr. Cynthia L. Landrum

This year's auction sermon topic was purchased by Margaret Johns. The exact title is yet to be announced, but it will have something to do with kindness and having a positive outlook, you can be sure!
